INTRODUCTION

The National Down Syndrome Congress Annual Convention offers a variety of different conferences and events for families, professionals, educators, and more, including the Exhibit Hall.

What is the Exhibit Hall?

The National Down Syndrome Congress Convention is the largest gathering of people with Down syndrome, their families, and professionals who serve the Down syndrome community. Annually, we bring together more self-advocates attending the Youth & Adults Conference than any other event in the Down syndrome community, and our exhibit hall is where your products and resources will get noticed. The Exhibit Hall showcases a variety of different products, organizations, and services that our community has to offer. Convention attendees will be able to browse all the different booths, collecting information, samples, and making important connections.
